planning for spring

Bulbs and Pansies

As the summer annuals fade into the fall, pansies are a great option to extend the season by supplementing your beds and pots with additional lasting color. In order to allow adequate planting time, and for the best color and variety availability, please order by October 1st, 2018. Planting will begin in early October.

Nightscaping

Extend the enjoyment of your landscape by adding outdoor lighting. Highlight your architecture and enhance your plantings by having one of our specialized lighting designers provide you with a design and estimate.

Winter Watering

An often overlooked key ingredient to any good landscape; winter watering provides supplemental nutrients in dry spells. All plants (turf included) still need timely moisture through snowmelt or by supplemental hand watering.

Dormant and Rejuvenation Pruning

The dormant season (late fall to late winter) is an excellent time for shrub pruning. No leaves means less stress to the plant, the structure is visible, and produces less debris. This is a horticulturally correct method to renew or rejuvenate shrubs, especially mature specimens that have outgrown their space.

Fall & Winter Clean-ups

Take advantage of the great fall weather and the nice days we tend to have in January and February with a clean-up. Fallen leaves and loose, undesirable organic material will be removed from rock and mulch areas. Fall and winter maintenance helps to keep insects and pests away that like to take cover in the organic material.

Seasonal Décor

Holiday decorations are fun, colorful, and add festive charm to your home! Pots, planters, outdoor floral arrangements, and wreaths can be customized to accentuate your home and garden. Our skilled team of designers can help design and install the best holiday decor display in your neighborhood.

Sprinkler Winterization Starting at $175. Please call for a quote and to schedule.

We will start scheduling this service for the second week in October and recommend no later than November 14th (remember that your plants may still need to be hand watered if we are having a moderate winter). It is highly probable that we will experience early cold spells and even snow before some systems are winterized. Proper maintenance and care includes insulating your backflow against these temporary cold spells. For newly installed systems by Designscapes Colorado, this is a complimentary service, but must be scheduled with our maintenance department.

NOTE: Sprinkler systems are winterized with compressed air, and to the best of our knowledge, there is no water left in the lines, therefore we do not warranty any freeze damage that may occur. As a note of conservation, please remember to reduce your watering schedule by 20% during the fall season.

In The News!

Clayton Early Learning - Designscapes Colorado has partnered for the second year with Clayton Early Learning to plant and maintain the school's garden beds on a weekly basis to provide fresh produce and a hands-on learning experience to students. Other tasks include refreshing the crushed gravel, weeding around the premissis, staining the trellises and arbors.

New York Times - On June 28, 2018, Phil Steinhauer was interviewed for an article featuring Designscapes Colorado on the H2-B labor issue. With the labor shortage in Denver and across the country, this program brings seasonal workers legally from other countries to fulfill the needs of small businesses.
